Where are we going? Why is humanity taking a giant leap—in the wrong direction? How and why is man's universe misshapen? Why is science swamped by its own artifacts? Why and how has modern man's world taken an abrupt break with its millions of year-long evolution? Why does modern man indulge in such kind of life, which he calls modern lifestyles, that literally amount to torturing himself, at times to breaking point? Is there anything as a technologically mature civilization when the very concept of modern science-driven technology is itself immature and faulty? How long can we sustain a hedonistic, degenerative and celebrity-worshiping culture that goes on unabated in vanity fares and other consumerist publicity stunts by the corporate leadership? Has humanity failed the test of life?

This book finds that the present humanity stands at crossroads even as it has indeed taken a seat in the cockpit of planet Earth. Where it will take us now will decide the critical question of our life – here and now. The story of modern society thus ends up as a self-evolving mechanism that is fast deteriorating the human society. This book would remind that the disintegration of our society is far advanced, that the time allowed us for action is too short.
